

The Howler

FROM THE PREZ...

I hope this message finds you feeling bittersweet about the end of marching season. We are all exhausted and need the rest, but I will miss the electricity and camaraderie that is felt by students and parents alike. The Spud Spectacular will cap a season which saw our band go head to head with the cream of the crop of Texas as well as national bands and be a top contender in each contest. Patsy Rede-Griffith and Adriann Ivey are putting together a "more than just spud" supper, Carla Kirkwood is working on the now traditional end of season T-shirt, and the band will put forth their incredible sound in the gym. You don't want to miss November 11!

With Region Orchestra auditions on Nov. 15, and Region Band auditions the first week in December, encourage your student to put the energy and enthusiasm they displayed on the marching field into mastering their region music so Cedar Park will be well represented in the region bands and orchestras. Cedar Park Middle School took the lion's share of first chairs in the middle school auditions as well as capturing about 40 percent of all band positions, so we want to continue the tradition of excellence.

As weekends become free time for our weary marchers, the social season kicks in and it seems like there is a birthday party, a movie party, a party party every time you turn around. As we move to these less structured interactions remember to ask the all important who, what, when and where so our kids stay safe while they are hanging together. The winter dance is a great end to the semester. A heads up for freshman parents: no dates are needed, and it is well chaperoned.

Applebee's nights will continue on the second Monday of every month through May, a great way to keep in touch and get a break from the kitchen! Mark your calendars for Nov. 10 and Dec. 8. Proceeds benefit the Band Council to offset costs of the winter dance and band banquet.

GUARD NEWS

Thank you once again to all parents and friends who assisted the color guard and staff this season. Without your help we could not achieve the success we do. Thank you to all who sewed, chaperoned, cut, ironed, chauffeured, and applauded.

Believe it or not, the color guard does not really have time off even though marching season is done. We have already begun preparing for our indoor winter guard season. This year's show is called "Life" and is based on a Virginia Woolf quote that begs people to live life to its fullest. We will be competing several times through the spring leading up to state championships April 4-5 in Dallas.

For those of you who didn't get enough of sewing flags for the fall, guess what: We need a few new flags made for the winter guard show. Don't panic, I am reusing several flags from last year, but we don't have enough for this year's larger guard. Therefore, I only need a few made. If you can volunteer, please contact Loretta Sedlock.

Spud Spectacular is Nov. 11

Come enjoy some delicious food, homemade sweets and the music of the best band around. Come check out our new and improved menu and buy some homemade goodies, then sit back and enjoy the band's end-of-the-marching season performance.

Tickets are $5 each, which includes both dinner and admission to the big show. The band and color guard students' tickets are $2 each.

For new band parents, this is a special night. Come and eat a great meal, socialize with fellow band families, then sit back and prepare to be wowed by your students' marching show performed in the gym. It will give you goose bumps!

Fundraiser Nov. 28-30

The next fundraiser available is a soccer tournament concession stand over Thanksgiving weekend. Thank you to John Buckler for bringing these opportunities to us. Families that will be in town on Friday through Sunday after Thanksgiving are encouraged to participate. Proceeds from this fundraiser are split half and half between the Booster Club and individual student accounts. This is a wonderful opportunity to increase your son or daughter's account. Spaces will be filled on a first come, first serve basis. Students will be given priority to work over parents, so that as many students as possible will be able to add points to their accounts. Parents will be given remaining times. For more information, please contact Patsy Griffith at sdbusply@flash.net or 250-0734.
